

ABSTRACT

- 10 A dishwashing product for use in a method of washing dishware/tableware in an automatic dishwashing machine is disclosed. The dishwashing machine has a single or multi-compartment product dispenser which is normally closed and sealed after charging the machine and prior to delivery of the dishwashing product into the wash liquor. The dishwashing product includes one or more dishwashing compositions in a unit dose form
- 15 and has a degree of deformability greater than about 5% and a shape and size such that the dishwashing product occupies more than about 40%, alternatively more than about 50%, of the volume of the corresponding compartment of the product dispenser in its closed state.